Aurelio Lepre, "Corriere della Sera" «Le bombe cadono giù, le scorgiamo distintamente sgranarsi dalle pance dei quadrimotori. E inizia il finimondo. Esplosioni ovunque. Roman Pottery in the Archaeological Record-J.

Theodore Peña 2007-04-30 This book examines how Romans used their pottery and the implications of these practices on the archaeological record. It is organized around a flow model for the life cycle of Roman pottery that includes a set of eight distinct practices: manufacture, distribution, prime use, reuse, maintenance, recycling, discard, reclamation. J. Theodore Peña evaluates how these practices operated, how they have shaped the archaeological record, and the implications of these processes on archaeological research through the examination of a wide array of archaeological, textual, representational and comparative ethnographic evidence. The result is a rich portrayal of the dynamic that shaped the archaeological record of the ancient Romans that will be of interest to archaeologists, ceramicists, and students of material culture.

The Imagined Immigrant-Ilaria Serra 2009 Using original sources--such as newspaper articles, silent movies, letters, autobiographies, and interviews--Ilaria Serra depicts a large tapestry of images that accompanied mass Italian migration to the U.S. at the turn of the twentieth century. She chooses to translate the Italian concept of immaginario with the Latin imago that felicitously blends the double English translation of the word as "imagery" and "imaginary." Imago is a complex knot of collective representations of the immigrant subject, a mental production that finds concrete expression; palpable, yet real. The "imagined immigrant" walks alongside the real one in flesh and rags.

La Memoria dell'Arte. Le pitture rupestri dell'Acacus tra passato e futuro-Savino di Lernia 2008-05-01 L'arte rupestre del Tadrart Acacus è iscritta dal 1985 nella Lista UNESCO dei siti patrimonio dell'umanità. Grande parte di questo successo si deve alla ricerca scientifica italiana, iniziata nel 1955, che dedicò e continua ogni anno a dedicare a questi bellissimi luoghi energie, passioni e saperi. Il volume analizza in dettaglio una importante collezione di riproduzioni di pitture rupestri effettuate dai Maestri pittori ( tra gli altri Piero Guccione, Lorenzo Tornabuoni, Giovanni Checchi) al seguito della Missione tra il 1955 e il 1968, oggi conservate al Museo Preistorico-Etnografico 'L. Pigorini' di Roma, confrontandole con gli originali, ritrovati e ristudiati nel corso delle ultime missioni in Acacus. Il volume, diviso in quattro parti, ripercorre la storia di quelle ricerche, ne analizza in dettaglio i problemi di significato e conservazione, e suggerisce un percorso possibile per il futuro di questo formidabile patrimonio.

Homosexuality and Italian Cinema-Mauro Giori 2017-11-18 This book is the first to establish the relevance of same-sex desires, pleasures and anxieties in the cinema of post-war Italy. It explores cinematic representations of homosexuality and their significance in a wider cultural struggle in Italy involving society, cinema, and sexuality between the 1940s and 1970s. Besides tracing the evolution of representations through both art and popular films, this book also analyses connections with consumer culture, film criticism and politics. Giori uncovers how complicated negotiations between challenges to and valorization of dominant forms of knowledge of homosexuality shaped representations and argues that they were not always the outcome of hatred but also sought to convey unmentionable pleasures and complicities. Through archival research and a survey of more than 600 films, the author enriches our understanding of thirty years of Italian film and cultural history.

The Baron in the Trees-Italo Calvino 2017-10-03 Cosimo di Rondó, a young Italian nobleman of the eighteenth century, rebels against his parents by climbing into the trees and remaining there for the rest of his life. From his perch in the trees, Cosimo sees the Age of Enlightenment pass by and a new century dawn.

On Representation-Louis Marin 2001 This is a collection of twenty-two essays by an eminent philosopher, critic, and theorist that appeared between 1971 and 1992. Luftwaffe Fighter Aces-Mike Spick 2011-07-19 In this exciting book Mike Spick shows how the Luftwaffe's leading fighter pilots were able to outscore their allied counterparts so effectively and completely during the Second World War. When the records of the Jagdflieger pilots became available after the war, they were initially greeted with incredulity _ the highest claim was for 352 kills, and more than 100 pilots had recorded more than 100 victories. However postwar research proved that these claims had in fact been made in good faith and confirmation had only been given after rigorous checking. To discover the secret of this success, aviation history expert Mike Spick examines the exploits of these aces and sets out the context in which it took place. Every major theater is covered in detail including the conditions peculiar to each: climate, relative numerical and qualitative strengths, the presence or absence of radar and other measures, and the relative merits of the planes being flown. He focuses on the methods and tactics used by individual aces and uses firsthand sources wherever possible to put the reader right alongside the pilot in the cockpit.

Filmosophy-Daniel Frampton 2006 Filmosophy is a provocative new manifesto for a radically philosophical way of understanding cinema. It coalesces twentieth-century ideas of film as thought (from Hugo Münsterberg to Gilles Deleuze) into a practical theory of "film-thinking," arguing that film style conveys poetic ideas through a constant dramatic "intent" about the characters, spaces, and events of film. Discussing contemporary filmmakers such as Béla Tarr and the Dardenne brothers, this timely contribution to the study of film and philosophy will provoke debate among audiences and filmmakers alike. Leaves of Hypnos-René Char 1973 A war had begun which, though most of his country was soon occupied, occupied Rene Char still more. ... He was about 36 then. And the poetic journal he kept of and at that time comes to us under the auspices of his Resistance code-name, Hypnos, the Greek divinity of Sleep. ... As for the present work, the "leaves" remind the translator of Rimbaud's from a Season in Hell, but this is no longer a private hell expatiated into a vision of the human condition, but a public hell drawn from, exceeded by, a sense of responsibility. ... --Grossman Publishers, Inc. Donated by Judy Sackheim, in memory of Eric Sackheim, 10/2011.

Prisoners of Politics-Rachel Elise Barkow 2019-03-04 America's criminal justice system reflects irrational fears stoked by politicians seeking to win election. Pointing to specific policies that are morally problematic and have failed to end the cycle of recidivism, Rachel Barkow argues that reform guided by evidence, not politics and emotions, will reduce crime and reverse mass incarceration.

2013-02-20 The Fiat CR.42, a logical development of the Fiat CR.32, was the last single-seat fighter biplane to be produced. It entered service with the Italian Regia Aeronautica in May 1939 before being exported to Belgium, Hungary and Sweden. Its combat debut came when the Belgian air force threw its fleet into action during the German invasion of the Low Countries on 10th May 1940. Despite being quickly overwhelmed, the Belgian pilots managed to make a number of aerial claims. The CR.42 became heavily involved in the fighting in North Africa and although it was gradually replaced by more modern fighters, it continued in a point defence and ground support role until the end of the war. Drawing on research from a range of sources, this book examines the extensive employment of the Italian fighter plane during the course of World War II.
